G2S EXECUTIVE COACHING

FOR HIGH PERFORMANCE LEADERS

WHY USE A COACH?

Executive or business coaching is widely accepted as a powerful and effective intervention to support corporate leaders, executives and professionals.

THE VALUE OF WORKING WITH A G2S CERTIFIED COACH:

ONE

Having a trained professional who can help you clarify and structure the most powerful objectives that make the most change for you in a given period of time.

TWO

Having someone to hold you accountable for the objectives you have set and to track your progress while providing actionable insights along the way.

THREE

Having a professional support you with the insights and additional communication, leadership or business development skills to reach your goals and accelerate your success.

FOUR

It's like having two experienced minds synergised and working on one agenda together, the client's agenda. A G2S coach is only successful when the client is successful.

WHY A G2S COACH?

The G2S coaching system was designed by Sean Weafer in 1997. It is a proven, specific process or system of coaching that helps identify detailed objectives, provides the support and skills that gets you to your objectives, is focused on return on investment and measures change along the way. It is not just a conversation and it's definitely not therapy or counselling-based and has strict rules of engagement in that regard. It is about professional and business success.

EFFECTIVE

It is perfect for high performance environments and leaders. Described by one client as a system 'that provides guide rails to success'.

UNIQUE

It is unique in being laser-focused on results while also developing the communication and influencing skills sets, executive presence and attitude a client needs to succeed in the new hybrid world.

THREE

FLEXIBLE

As a system it guarantees a high degree of achievement, while it also allows space for reflection, or to deal with a specific issue that might arise for the client, or a master class session in a business skill, all the while focused on delivering on the original objectives for the client.

HOW DO I KNOW WHAT PROGRAM I NEED OR HOW DO I START?

Before starting any program we offer a complimentary (free) 50 minute coaching session to suitable applicants.

FREE

In this session we first discuss confidentiality in coaching, our professional Code of Ethics, we give a specific G2S definition of coaching and how it works, then walk through some unique G2S coaching models.

Lastly, we help you to identify and define the specific objectives that will deliver the most value for you during the program and how we will measure program outcomes.

This session is obligation free. All that is invested in 50 minutes of your time and if you decide not to proceed at the very least you have absolute clarity about what you need to do in the coming months.
