President's Message

Dawn Schneider

As life slowly returns to normal, we are excited to make our way back to a full events calendar for the remainder of 2021. Mike Gussis, Jersey Shore's Tourmeister, has completed a plan for monthly social and technical activities. Our maiden voyage event for the year was April 24th when more than 20 cars caravanned down to Longwood Gardens in Kennett Square, Pennsylvania. It was great to finally see everyone LIVE again as opposed to on a WebEx call, and it was especially great to have some first timers join us. After two hours of looking at spectacular Spring flowers, half of the group made its way to Season's 52 in the Cherry Hill Mall for a wonderful dinner. It truly felt like we were finally out of hibernation.

Our next event is on Sunday, June 13th. Join us at Sebastian's Schnitzelhaus in Wrightstown at 6:00. Being a German car club---it's a prerequisite that we get together for German food minimally once a year! Jersey Shore has been to this fun restaurant before, and we've really enjoyed the great atmosphere and really good food. The restaurant is BYOB---and the Club will be providing German wine and beer (as well as appetizers). Be sure to RSVP by 6/1 to Mike Gussis at mgussis@aol.com to let him know that you're coming!

Look for details in this Shoreline regarding a brand new event for Jersey Shore two weeks later on Saturday, June 26th. Wings and Wheels was developed by our own Bill Tice and will definitely be fun for the entire family!

Speaking of the entire family, another new event on the Jersey Shore calendar is Ladies Day on Sunday, July 10th. As I'm sure you could guess, the vast majority of Jersey Shore's primary members are men. There are, however, a few of us women in the mix! AND---there are so many co-members that I've met over the years who are fabulous women! While we generally like having the guys around, I thought it would be fun to do something on our own. So whether you love owning a Porsche, or love someone who owns one, join us at 4:00 on Sunday, July 10th at the fabulous Rooney's in Long Branch. It will be fun! Guys---if your partner does not typically read the Shoreline, please pass on this information. RSVP to me by 7/1 at dawnschneider126@gmail.com to let me know you're coming.

Watch your email for more information on upcoming Jersey Shore events. As always, we welcome suggestions from members regarding events you think would be fun and/or informative. Enjoy the Spring. I look forward to seeing you!

Dawn

Dealer's Perspective

By Scott Patterson

scott.patterson@penskeuautomotive.com

Last time around I began my article by writing that Spring is in the air. If the amount of pollen floating around is any indication, Spring has not fully sprung just yet. The cars in our driveways and out on our lot all have a yellowy-green sheen and it really does not matter how much you wash them. I washed two of our cars last Thursday and the shine lasted less than 24 hours. Despite the pollen, “sports car season” is in full swing. In fact, I have been driving our 1988 Carrera (named “Schatzi”) each day for nearly a week and I think I have another week of good weather so Schatzi will stay in the daily rotation.

Having just written the name my wife and I bestowed on our Carrera led me to ponder, how many of you name your Porsches? My wife and I have named not only our Porsche but every car we own is named. Our car family consists of Schatzi, Ruby, Millie and Baby Girl. Schatzi is the Porsche and we call her that for two reasons. The first is that my Aunt & Uncle had a Doberman when I was growing up and her name was Schatzi. I always liked the name despite not knowing what it meant back then. Now I know the meaning and it is even more fitting for our 911. Schatzi is German for sweetheart or “my little dear.” It was a fitting name for their beloved family pet and it seemed meant to be for our 911 as well. So how many of you name your cars? Maybe this would be a good post for the JSR PCA Facebook page? I will leave that to the page moderators to decide if they would like to ask there.

As far as I recall, Schatzi was a great dog and I am sure many of us have well-loved household furry family members. How many use your Porsche vehicles to cart your dogs (and cats) around town and on road trips? We have two pups, and they go almost everywhere with us, including in the “old” 911. When folded down those little rear jump seats form an almost perfect resting place for a pup, maybe even two if they are small! You will probably need a Cayenne or a Macan if your pet is anything larger than medium size, but I say it all the time that Porsches are fantastic at everyday life and for my wife and I that most certainly includes our pets. Our dogs love car rides and maybe even a little bit more when they are riding in the Porsche!

Not a day goes by without someone stopping into Porsche Monmouth looking for a car for the Summer. Many are looking for something with an open top, so Boxsters and 911 cabriolets, but other simply want something fun to drive. The good news is that all of our cars are fun to drive! We are all happy to help fulfil those desires and wishes for perhaps the most perfect cars for “sports car season” – a Porsche of course! Another part of the season is car related events. I started Red Bank Cars & Coffee more than a decade ago with a few good friends including members of the JSR. During COVID Cars & Coffee events had been scaled back, and some completely halted, but many are now back. Red Bank Cars & Coffee is back on Sunday May 23rd in downtown Red Bank (White Street parking lot) and everyone is excited to get back together. In fact, I am aware of at least 3 other car events on the same Sunday, including Bodymotion, Millstone as well as something called Bumpers & Bagels further down the Shore. If you have not already done so, follow Red Bank Cars & Coffee on Facebook and Instagram for updates.

I hope to see you soon at the store, stop in, seek me out and say “HI!”

* * Jersey Shore PCA visits Longwood Gardens 4/24/21 * *

On April 24th 40 Jersey Shore members took advantage of a beautiful Spring day to caravan the 90 minutes to spectacular Longwood Gardens, PA. It was a great opportunity to meet again with old friends, as well as a few new ones! On the return home many of the members stopped for dinner at the Seasons 52 restaurant in the Cherry Hill Mall.

Longwood is a botanical garden consisting of over 1,077 acres of gardens, woodlands, and meadows in Kennett Square, Pennsylvania, in the Brandywine Creek Valley. It is one of the premier horticultural display gardens in the United States and is open to visitors year-round to enjoy native and exotic plants and horticulture (both indoor and outdoor), events and performances, seasonal and themed attractions, as well as educational lectures, courses, and workshops.

Longwood Gardens has a long and varied history. For thousands of years, the native Lenni Lenape tribe fished its streams, hunted its forests, and planted its fields. Evidence of the tribe's existence is found in quartz spear points that have been discovered on and around the property and can be found on display in the Peirce-du Pont House on the Longwood Gardens property.

In 1700, a Quaker farmer named George Peirce purchased 402 acres of this English-claimed land from William Penn's commissioners. George's son Joshua cleared and farmed the land and in 1730 he built the brick farmhouse that, enlarged, still stands today. In 1798, Joshua's twin grandsons Samuel and Joshua, who had inherited the farm, actively pursued an interest in natural history and began planting an arboretum that eventually covered 15 acres.

The development of Longwood as a public garden began in the 1800s with the Peirce family's arboretum. Joshua and Samuel Peirce collected many native and exotic trees, which they planted in straight rows on land east of their farmhouse. This area became known as Peirce's Park toward the end of the 19th century.

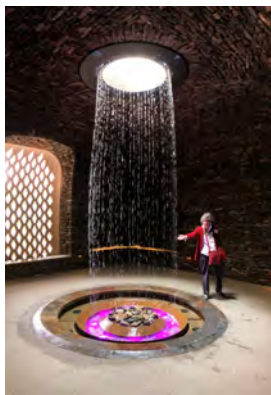

On July 20th, 1906, 36-year-old Pierre du Pont purchased the farm primarily to preserve the trees. He was not planning to create Longwood Gardens, but within a few years, his desire to make it a place where he could entertain his friends transformed a simple country farm into one of the country's leading horticultural display gardens.

Du Pont opened the garden to the public in 1921 and in 1937 created the Longwood Foundation, which came under the control of trustees in 1946. Until 1973 entry to the garden was free, relying solely on its sizable endowment, until 1973, when it began charging admission.

A comprehensive long term development plan was created with the first major project being the revitalization of the Main Fountain Garden. (Internet) (Photos The Tice's and Curtis Watts)
